Regular Meeting At The Round Tables

Thirteen Wayland members, our regular Dansville guest Jim Burns, and Marian Crawford, invited by Deanie Traphagen, could comfortably maneuver their eating utensils at three of four tables without elbowing their neighbors. Thanks to Kelly for setting it up. It is so much better.

Deanie had invited Marian Crawford to come the week before, but we were happy to have her a week later. She is no stranger to the club, having given us several presentations in the past. The last was the Community Development Corporation she helped start after retiring from the library.

There were no rolls with the tossed salad, which wasn't tossed either. It was a Waldorf salad instead, and quite delicious. The no rolls option usually means there will be some form bread with the main course, usually garlic bread with an Italian inspired meal, but hot roast beef sandwich has been served in the past too... Well, it was Italian. The Lasagna was delicious, easily besting a HRBS, and was served with corn on the side. It was too bad that I forgot to bring the camera, for the dessert was presented in a very apropos way. They had put the orange frosted cupcakes in a round tray, then decorated the entity with chocolate sprinkles so that it looked like a Halloween pumpkin happy face.

Confessions

President Bob had met with Tom Quinlan before the meeting. Tom's face was bandaged after cancer surgery, and he left Bob a ten-spot for having to bow out the meeting. Tom had to go to California, ending up in Florida for some well-deserved recuperation the next few weeks. I hope you heal fast, and that you can play golf during the convalescence, Tom!

Lou Hazlett was looking forward to the visit of grandchildren in the coming week, tossing in two HB in anticipation. President Bob accepted, but reserved the right to possibly levy a fine later.

Sharon Vogt gave an HB for the Parade. The pictures husband Peter took came out well, and some will be published in the coming issue of the Genesee Shopper. (Next year, we must not forget to publicize beforehand to, - participation was considerably lower than normal.)

Art Traphagen put in an SB for continuing scheduling conflicts with his Ask In Gear targets.

Reverend George gave an HB for the outcome of last week's meeting.

Marty Kimmel had attended the model train show in York, PA, and he had made a few new acquisitions. I missed the amount of the fine.

Bob Radell put in an HB/SB after a recent appointment to the office of "chronic malcontent" in Springwater by "King Mark."

Rotary "Indoctrination"

President Bob apparently forgot the Rotary Minute, but Reverend George didn't. He held up the latest issue of the Rotarian, which he recommended be a part of Wayland Rotary club member's monthly reading. George went on to describe what we would find in it. Don't forget to bring your copy to a meeting after you have read it, so that we can distribute to the community.

Deanie Traphagen reminded us of The District 7120 Foundation Brunch on Nov. 11th at the Belhurst Castle in Geneva. You can find more at the district web site, www.rotary7120.org.

George Smith won the 50/50 (we thought he had lost his magic). He pulled out the four of diamonds, so the pot is now well into the sixties.
