Cow Flop Winnings To Rotarian Families

We had fourteen members and one guest last week, -Jim Burns from the Dansville club.

We started with tossed salad, which left the field wide open as to what the main course would be. We haven't had meatloaf in a long time, so there it was with mashed potato, gravy and a nice vegetable medley on the side. The dessert was a slice of a "rolled cake" with chocolate pudding and other goodies layered in. There must still be fear of the dessert police, because I saw slices left on the table.

George Smith delivered another Rotary Minute with more examples of the Foundation projects. He elaborated on one in the Phillipines.

Announcements

There is going to be a Program featuring the Waylandaires on September 25. That'll be excellent. Bring a spouse or friend.

The "Bring a Friend" meeting is scheduled for October 9. "Get Your Ask in Gear" as the buttons said that the membership committee were wearing.

Treasurer Nancy Levesque summarized the Cow Flop Bingo. 440 tickets were sold, which brings the average coverage to 55% of the available squares. A net income of $875 was realized after prizes and expenses.

President Bob had printed out listings of the current board members, which had expanded with three members at large, all presumably appointed by Bob himself.

Confessions

President Bob kicked off the session with a couple of happy ones for a Photo Shoot he performed, involving little children in a farm environment. It was messy, but he was pleased with the results. He also confessed to a 30th wedding anniversary, which past president Pat valued at a buck per decade.

Bo Lysell's memory was jogged by Bob's confession, and he reported the celebration of Pat's and his marriage (27 years). $3.

Bud StGeorge and Sue celebrated their 45th anniversary. Bud had a good story to go with this celebration, but he wasn't allowed to present it to full effect because of some unseemly suspicion that he was trying to bundle another event into the same fine. It was astonishing that Don Griffing's cow had the smarts to decorate the square 145 of the CFB, which Sue had picked based on their 1st marriage and 45 years of bliss. So there was an intermission of song, which you didn't have to suffer in this newsletter. Bud rose above the howling crowd, presenting the pan with $5 for the anniversary, and another ten-spot for the cow story. Bo Lysell added a few HB because his daughter won the CFB the day before.

Sharon Vogt's added a "measly HB" (her own description) for a work related event.

Sgt@Arms Tom drew the 6 of clubs, so the jackpot is now $45, or thereabouts, in the new 50/50 system.
