September 18, 2007

Rotary Club of Wayland, New York, D7120

Robert Oswald, president

Thomas Quinlan, secretary

Little House Gravel Project Progressing

There were thirteen members and two guests in attendance last week, - casino maestro Jim Burns of the Dansville club and Ellen Stephens of the Hornell club.

We started with watermelon and little by little past, president Pat ended up with four servings in front of her. Would there be a fine for this, or a medal of bravery? After this bad start (from a watermelon-hater's perspective) there was great news, - steak for the main course. It was accompanied by some shrimp, twice baked potato, and unexpectedly, a creamy cucumber salad, which worked for some, especially Pat.

George Smith's Rotary Minute geared into the upcoming "Bring A Friend" meeting, which date was changed again to October 23. The theme for George's minute was "Why Join Rotary?" Got that? October 23.

Announcements

There will be a program next week by the Englishmen visiting the Traphagens. (I think they stay with Art and Deanie rather than the Bryant House, remember that?)

There is going to be a Program featuring the Waylandaires on September 25. That'll be excellent. Bring a spouse or friend.

The 'real' "Bring a Friend" meeting has been rescheduled for October 23. I hope that this has been mentioned enough now.

There is a work meeting on Saturday the 15th, 10 a.m. at the Little House, unless a complication with permits arises.

Confessions

Tom Didas (Sgt@Arms) confessed to a birthday with unspecified ranking. After a nice serenade, he was made to pay $3.

President Bob had a couple of happy bucks. He was happy to have made it to the meeting on time without a speeding ticket. A photo shoot at a golf tournament in Caledonia was the "culprit." He was grateful to the guy in the pro shop there, who lent him a cart so that some of his "fluffiness" wouldn't expire.

Roy Robinson had a happy buck for a recent visit by the Horans. Ray Horan used to be a member before they moved to Albany.

Tom Quinlan had attended a wedding up in the Adirondack Mountains. He came away with a 16 foot canoe as a party favor! Wow! The $3 fine seems fully justified.

Bob and Linda Radell celebrated their 20th anniversary, but unfortunately Linda suffered several compression fractures of her spine after falling. Our thoughts and prayers are with her.

Art and Deanie spent a week downstate among ailing relatives. Art brought a violin section for extra effect, but lost the popularity contest with Deanie anyway. $3 to $2 split.

Pat Lysell, and her chauffeur, attended a wedding at Pine Tree Resort in Alex Bay. The driver won this contest. $3 to nothing.

It was determined that Nancy Levesque won the 50/50, and the 7 of clubs was drawn by President Bob in her absence.
